Welcome to The Chequers a former 17th Century Coaching Inn. We do hope you enjoy your visit with us. While we always strive for excellence, we understand that we make mistakes and indeed something may just not be to your liking; as such if at any stage you are not happy with your meal, service or experience please tell us. We will make you happy and we won't cause a fuss. Life's too short to leave the pub unhappy. If you are in a rush, please do let us know and we will do our best to accommodate. Our food, with few exceptions, is cooked fresh and can take up to an hour at peak service and dependent on the size of the party. We hope you understand we would prefer that you wait for it to be right. Cheers to you all and Bon Appetit.
